Luxury Suites Food + Beverage Website

MyMSGSuite.com is used by MSG's suite holders to preorder food and deliver to their box suites during games, concerts or other live events. The primary objective for the re-design was to create an easy-to-use, modern and intuitive online experience for MyMSGSuite.com users.

Hagopian Ink partnered with Madison Square Garden to create a web application strategy, user personas, information architecture, detailed wireframes and launch a mobile-friendly website.

Madison Square Garden tripled their online sales within the first 5 months of the redesign implementation.

Developing an award-winning brand identity from the ground up

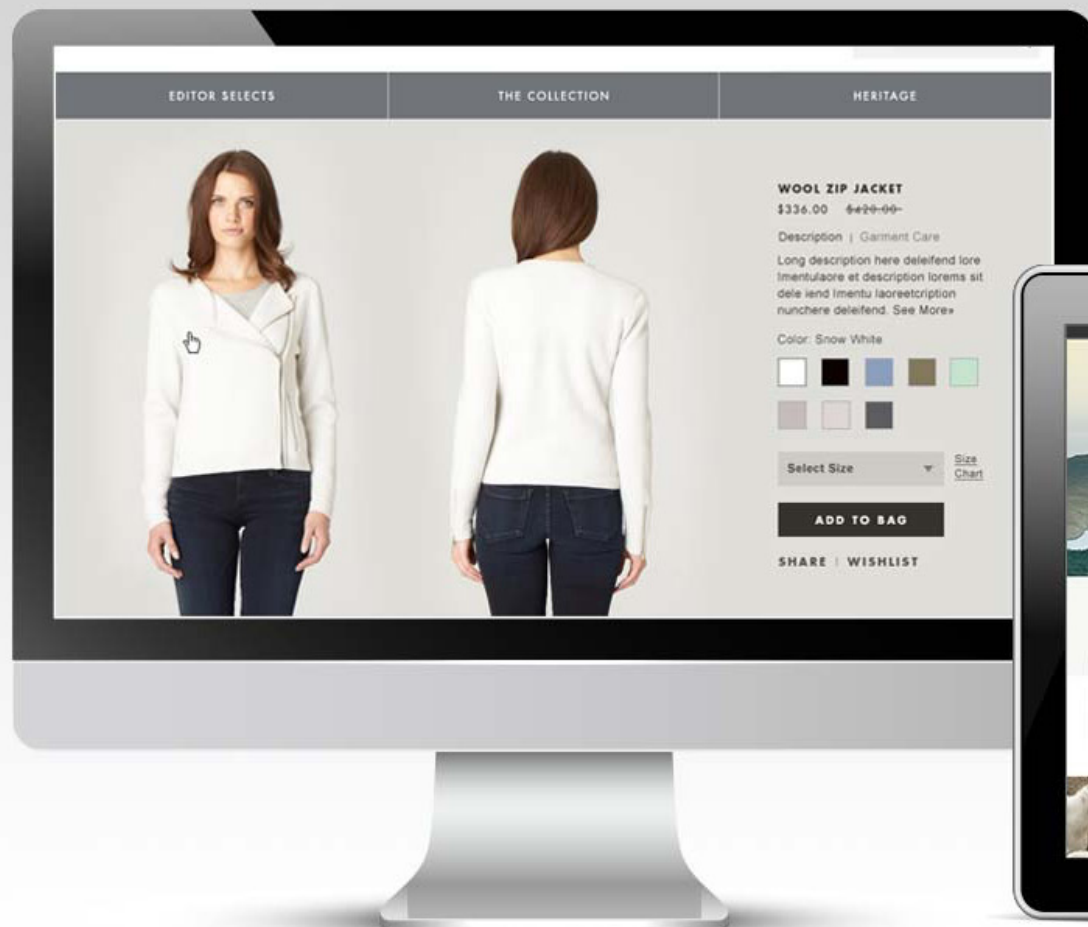

When Zhongyin Cashmere bought the 140-year-old Todd & Duncan brand, they had big plans to bring it to the US market and update the Scottish label's historic image for a new generation of fashion-forward, luxury consumers. They turned to Hagopian Ink to get that job done.

A visual brand based on heritage and luxury

Hagopian Ink worked with Todd & Duncan on a large-scale project that developed a brand identity design and overall marketing and web strategy for the US rollout. The first phase focused on visual branding including logo, stationery system, business cards, store signage, in-store hang tags, shopping bags and custom boxes. We took care to ensure that the visual identity highlighted Todd & Duncan's Scottish heritage as a signature element, and carried forward the quality, craftsmanship, luxury, modern elegance and sophistication of the cashmere line for future growth.

PHILOSOPHY

Inspiration stems from a combination of the tonal complexity of northern sky lines to the work of LA artist, Ingrid Calame, whose linear drawings and abstract paintings begin life as paper tracings that connect to the real world; from graffiti on the streets of LA to renaissance techniques, to create artistic fusions of line, form, texture and colour.

DIAMONDS IN GLASS

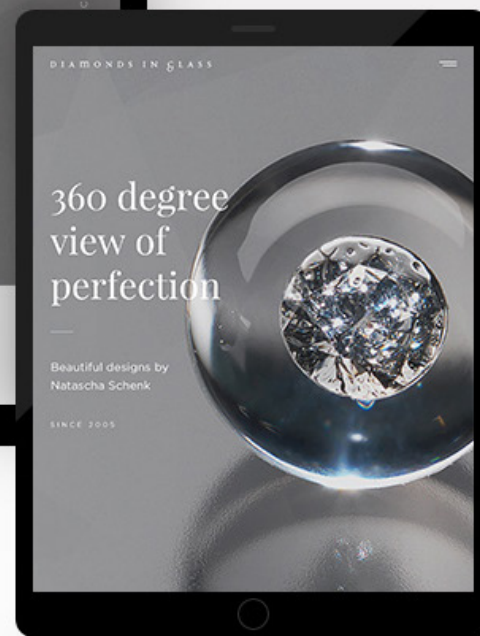

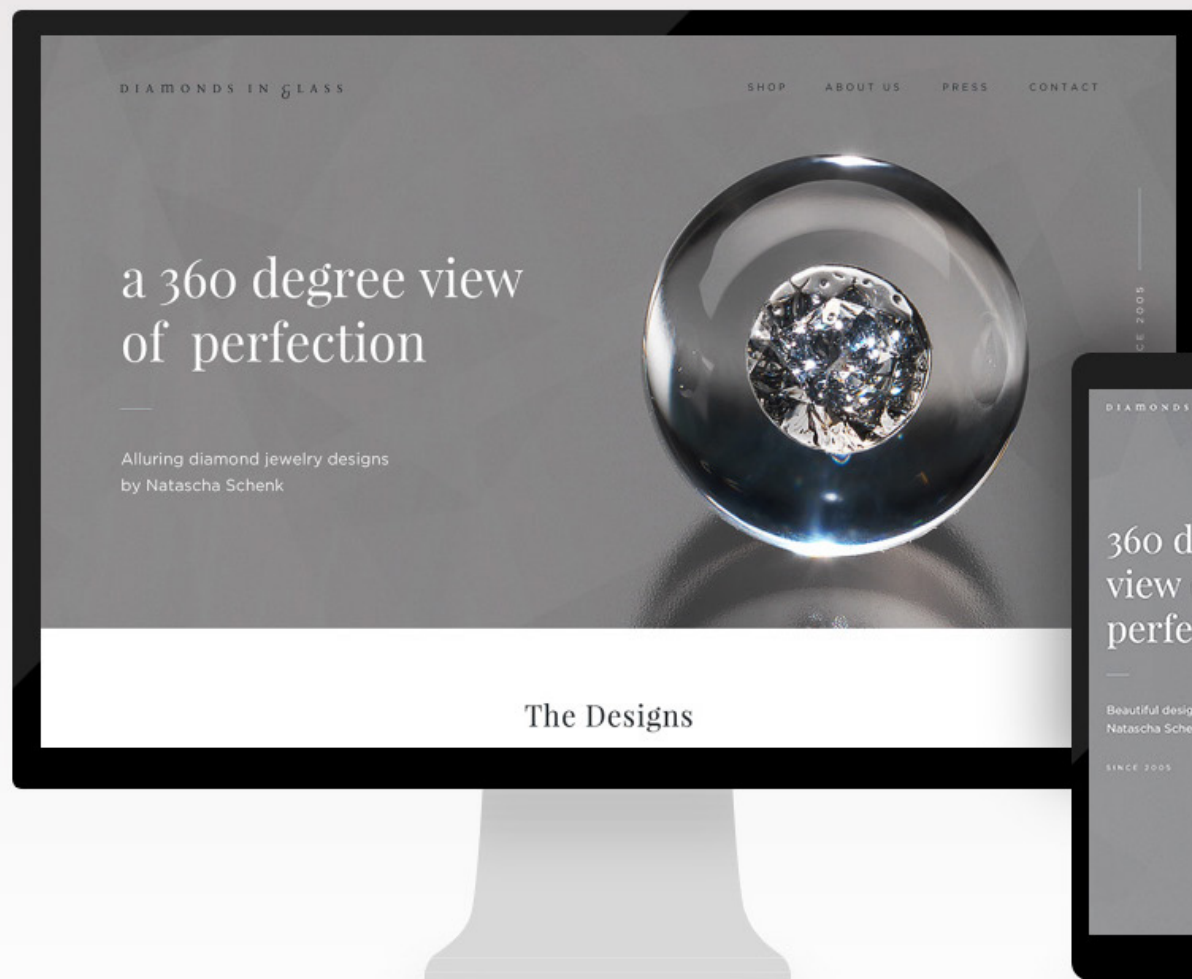

Ground breaking luxury jewelry e-commerce design

Diamonds in Glass is a unique product with a proprietary technology enabling a diamond to be embedded in a perfectly round globe of glass, offering a 360 degree view of the stone. How do you introduce a product to market that nobody has ever seen or heard of before?

Yellow+Blue Wines: Website redesign

When Yellow+Blue Wines rebranded, and redesigned their logo and packaging to fully represent their commitment to being environmentally conscious, we helped take this positive change to the next level. We created a new website in just six weeks, to coincide with product launch in stores, and developed a custom CMS to provide maintenance and updates. The new web design brought the brand image and packaging from the store to the online world. The design solution included the vibrant jewel-tone colors of Yellow+Blue's packaging, complemented by beautiful black-and-white photography of South American and Spanish wine regions. The new site enabled a 5x increase in wholesale contracts including restaurants serving Y+B.

WHAT DOES ORGANIC REALLY MEAN?

Well, in the case of Yellow+Blue, organic means really good wine.
But you probably want a little more detail than that, so here goes...

All Yellow+Blue wines are certified organic, meaning the growers we work with use natural, sustainable processes in their vineyards — no pesticides or synthetic fertilizers. The certification is awarded after third-party inspectors have determined that the vineyard meets these standards. But we go even further. Yellow+Blue wines are certified organic throughout the entire growing, winemaking and packaging process — from start to finish, you're getting a quality wine that's been fussed over every step of the way.

Now, about taste. Just labeling a wine organic doesn't make it taste better — you have to start with quality grapes and outstanding winemakers who are committed to their craft. That's what sets Yellow+Blue apart. We like to think of our wines as not just organic but artisanal, created by patient people who understand what it takes to coax great wine out of the earth.

It's a natural approach that makes Yellow+Blue better... naturally.

ORGANIC MALBEC

ARGENTINA
San Juan Province

COLOR

Profound purple color flecked with persimmon

AROMA

Bouquet swirls with heady aromas of black cherries, chocolate and garrigue

REGION

Argentina's San Juan Province is the country's second largest wine-producing region, located approximately 2,000 feet above sea level near the Chilean border.

This continental semi-desert region experiences little rainfall but is irrigated by snowmelt from the Andes mountains in the west. The dry, sunny conditions and alluvial, red-clay soil yield exceptional wines rich in terroir.

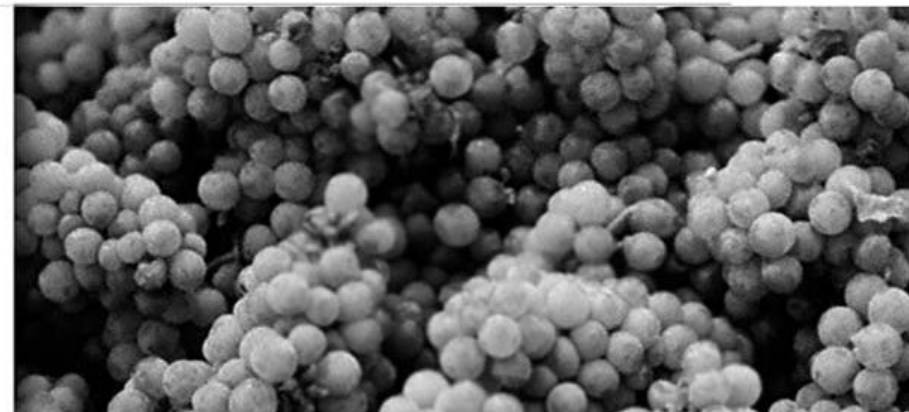

Low rain and plentiful sunshine results in optimum ripening conditions for these 100% certified organic biodynamic wines. All harvesting is done by hand, with a strict triage, or sorting process, performed before de-stemming and crushing. Fermentation occurs in stainless steel with indigenous yeast.

TASTING NOTES

A medium- to full-bodied wine with fine tannins a lingering, complex finish

FOOD PAIRINGS

Compliments grilled meats, rosemary, garlic and fennel dishes

Financial security for all women.

ENGAGE is a bipartisan organization committed to advancing the economic security of all women at all stages of life. Key challenges for the organization to address include gender and pay inequality in the workplace, the financial burdens of childcare and caregiving and the underfunding of women-owned small businesses, just to start.

New image, website + fundraising tools.

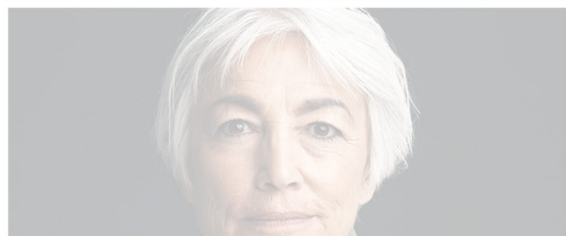

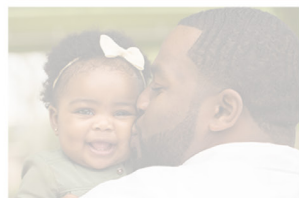

Hagopian Ink collaborated with Engage for 2 years to elevate the image into a full brand, create a fundraising website, establish a social media presence, and craft a communications deck to attract key donors. The strategic designs positioned the organization as a leader in bipartisan policy making for women.

I am an engaged woman because:

I am tired of partisan fighting getting in the way of making progress on issues that matter to me and my economic future.

THE 4 POINTS OF ENGAGE

1234

We seek to be a new women's movement which mobilizes elected and corporate leaders to address our economic security.

LEARN MORE

The thread of a woman's economic life:

AGES
45-55

The average caregiver is a 49-year-old woman who works at least part time and has been taking care of an aging parent for several years.

AGE GROUP

What makes Engage different?

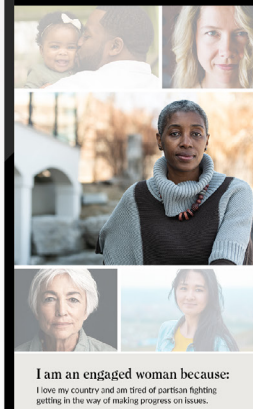

We are singularly focused on improving women's economic security. We will not be divided in our mission. Discussions around divisive social issues are not a focus of Engage's bipartisan mission.

Engage does not endorse candidates running for elected office. Engage does not raise money for or contribute to candidates running for elected office.

GET INVOLVED

FROM OUR FOUNDER, RACHEL PEARSON

"The political conversation has not adapted to women's current economic realities. Engage is emerging in a period of profound transformation in every part of our lives."

I am an engaged woman because:
I love my country and am tired of partisan fighting getting in the way of making progress on issues.

Why Engage?

Because money issues are the ultimate women's issue.

Women outnumber men, outvote men, and outlive men.

CONSIDER THIS

OUR LEADERS PAY TOO LITTLE ATTENTION TO THE AMERICAN WOMAN'S ECONOMIC OPPORTUNITY.

Women, who are the political majority, deserve to be the primary beneficiaries of responsible economic policy legislation.

SEE RESULTS

Women are far too often reduced to their positions on social issues in political conversations.

Challenges such as the high cost of healthcare and education, gender equality in the workplace and the marketplace, working while raising children, the burden of caregiving, the future of jobs in the new economy, preparedness for retirement, and access to capital for small businesses are not being adequately addressed.
